15
16 NOTICE:

17 The court is prohibited from giving legal advice to either party involved in this litigation.

18 However, in furtherance of Senate Bill (SB) 434 effective July 1, 2023, the Court provides the 19 following notice to the parties:

20 "All property, other than that stated in NRS 123.130, acquired after marriage by either spouse or 21 both spouses, is community property unless otherwise provided by an agreement in writing 22 between the spouses; a decree of separate maintenance issued by a court of competent 23 jurisdiction; NRS 123.190; or a decree issued or agreement in writing entered pursuant to NRS
24 123.259." NRS 123.220. This includes pensions and/or retirement assets acquired after marriage
25 by either spouse. In granting a divorce, this court shall, to the extent practicable, make an equal
26 disposition of the community property of the parties, absent compelling reasons. See NRS
27 125.150. In dividing pension or retirement assets this Court must also comply with NRS
28 125.155, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), and any other

1 applicable state and federal laws. Litigants are responsible for presenting testimony and evidence 2 in support of any claim they believe they have for the manner in which these assets should be 3 allocated. See Gemma v. Gemma, 105 Nev. 458, 778 P.2d 429 (1989) and Fondi v. Fondi, 106
4 Nev. 856, 802 P.2d 1264 (1990).

5 In making the order outlined above, this Court allocates the community and separate property
6 portions of the parties' disclosed retirement and pension assets in accordance with applicable 7 law or this Court accepts the parties' stipulated settlement agreement. For certain types of 8 retirement and pension assets, an additional court order such as a Qualified Domestic Relations 9 Order (QDRO) or Court Order Acceptable for Processing (COAP) is required to effectuate the 10 Decree of Divorce awarding a portion of the participant's pension plan, military pension, or 11 retirement asset to another payee. QDROs and COAPs are generally issued separate from the 12 Decree of Divorce and must conform with the terms set forth in the Decree of Divorce. See 13 Henson v. Henson, 130 Nev. 814, 334 P.3d 933 (2014). It is the litigants' responsibility to 14 ensure any necessary QDRO or COAP orders are provided to the Court for issuance at 15 the time of issuance of the Decree of Divorce or immediately following issuance of the 16 Decree of Divorce. The Court does not and will not prepare these orders for you.

17 For more information regarding pensions, retirement assets, QDROs and/or COAPs the Court 18 encourages litigants to consult with legal counsel, utilize the services of the lawyer in the library 19 program (www.washoecourts.com/lawlibrary/lawyerinlibrary), and/or review relevant legal 20 authority including but not limited to the authorities cited above.
