Note

The fee to file a peremptory challenge is non-refundable, even if your request is denied.

The new judge will be randomly assigned to your case; you do not get to pick the new judge.

If a judge has made a substantive ruling in your case, it is too late to change judges. There are strict timing requirements for filing peremptory challenges. It is your responsibility to know whether you can still successfully file a peremptory challenge.

Review Nevada Supreme Court Rule 48.1 for further information about peremptory challenges.
